Idrobase Group Celebrates Twenty-Fifth Anniversary

Idrobase Group celebrated its 25th anniversary between May 20 and May 30, 2011 with a succession of business meetings that involved the whole staff and many of their clients coming from all over the world.

The celebration included a chance for the company's clients to experience their products first-hand and enjoy live demonstrations of the products in use at their renovated facility.

The Idrobase Group was pleased with the great response from their clients. The professional relationships that have been formed over the years have always consisted of a mutual trust and respect that goes beyond just the quality of the product offered. Idrobase looks forward to these relationships continuing in the years to come and eagerly looks forward to what they are sure will be a great future together facing the challenges of the market.
